PURPOSE: That WKU change from a one-week spring break to a two-week spring break.

WHEREAS: A common complaint about spring break is that it is too short. In fact, many students and teachers do not attend classes on the days before and after spring break. A two-week break should increase class attendance, and

WHEREAS: a two-week break will increase the options available to students. Some students may study for the whole time others may vacation for the entire period. Still others may choose to do some of each. REGARDLESS, they will have longer to do whatever they choose to do and should come back to school better prepared for the rest of the semester. Graduate students especially should welcome this change, and

WHEREAS: Teachers also will benefit more from a two-week break. They will have more time to study, play, grade papers, etc. Also, a longer break lends itself better to class-related field trips and special projects, or perhaps even to a two-week mini course, and

WHEREAS: Physical plant maintenance projects that are more easily done when students are away can likely be done more efficiently during a two week break than during a one week break, and

WHEREAS: WKU enrollment should increase once awareness of the two week break spreads. I believe that the two week break will recruit more students to WKU than any basketball or football teams ever have. (Although increased enrollment is not automatically good, I think WKU will always try to increase enrollment), and

THEREFORE: Be it resolved that we, the tan-oriented members of the Associated Student Government, do hereby request that the University change from a one week spring break to a two week spring break
