A Non-circulating Textbook Library

November 15, 1994

PURPOSE: To establish a non-circulating textbook library.

WHEREAS: Student financial aid is distributed two weeks into the semester, and

WHEREAS: Students may not have the money required to purchase the textbooks required for class, and

WHEREAS: The need for textbooks is common and immediate, and

WHEREAS: The College Heights Bookstore has a surplus amount of textbooks, and

WHEREAS: Course textbooks are not available for reference at any location in the University.

THEREFORE: Be it resolved that we the members of the Student Government Association respectfully request that the College Heights Bookstore establish a "non-circulating reserve" at the Helm-Cravens Library, and

FURTHERMORE: It would be the responsibility of a few voluntary members of congress, volunteers, to transport the books to the library and replace the books that need to be replaced the following semester.
